Absolute Navetta 75 "Sphere"

Absolute Welcomes the New Fleet Flagship: The Navetta 75 - The Absolute Sphere

Twenty years after it was founded, the Absolute shipyard celebrates its success by introducing Navetta 75, the new fleet flagship. The largest boat in the shipyard, "The Absolute Sphere", is designed to expand the Navetta range. It is no coincidence that Absolute chose the sphere, a symbol of perfection, wholeness and harmony, to describe a boat that embodies all the essential values and distinctive features that any new project should have in the Absolute shipyard.

The Absolute Navetta 75 Project

This sphere – the boat – represents all the boats that came before her, forming Absolute's current range alongside the Navetta 75. She incorporates the shipyard's most unique features and style, the strengths that set it apart from competitors and that boat owners value the most. She was designed to deliver a key message for the company: to see design as a combination of innovative technology and style, aiming for absolute balance, including excellence and, as a result, the search for completeness.

Absolute Navetta 75 Distinctive Features

In line with the new Fly range concept introduced by the 60 FLY, the Absolute Prisma Navetta 75 brings on board a terrace cockpit and the owner's cabin at the bow. The new flagship includes more of the shipyard's iconic elements, including large windows, high ceilings and spaces designed on a single level, both on the main and lower decks. Another Absolute signature feature of Navetta 75 is the presence of side decks covered and accessible from the inside, both from the galley and the helm station, placed in a raised position for unparalleled maneuverability. Third and fourth mooring stations are strategically positioned for easy maneuvering to enhance the two steering consoles. Navetta 75 comes with two other highlights of the shipyard's style: easy movement on board and ultimate privacy for the owners, their guests and crew. Indeed, from the main deck, you can easily access the flybridge from the aft and bow, thanks to two separate stairs. A dedicated crew area can be easily accessed from the cockpit without interrupting the owners and guests. In the stern, the captain's and crew quarters are versatile and functional, accommodating up to three beds, a bathroom and a private galley.

The Areas on the Absolute Navetta 75

Offering optimised space, superior functionality and undisputed luxury, all Absolute boats have the same features as higher-category yachts. Similarly, Navetta 75 is as spacious as a mega-yacht; at the bow, you will find a full-beam owner's cabin with private access and an en-suite bathroom on a raised level above the lower deck; at midship, there are two double cabins with private bathrooms and a twin bed cabin with a day-head. With the Navetta 75, Absolute proves once again that research can be used to elevate design and meet every need onboard, from sliding doors to generous storage compartments. Furthermore, the shipyard provides impressive solutions by offering beautifully designed external and internal areas for good times with friends and family and for absolute versatility in the flybridge and cockpit areas, with modular furnishings with no fixed structural elements.
