The New Zealand boat-building industry is renowned for the excellence of the yachts it produces for the world market. Bob Salthouse, Principal of Salthouse Marine Group in Auckland, has been designing and building sportfishing boats for more than 30 years. Over 750 boats have been built from his designs. His hulls are famous for their seakeeping capabilities and are used by the New Zealand Customs Service to patrol the country's coastline. This Salthouse Sovereign 63 is a customized long-range sportfishing boat maintained by a full-time captain. It is nicely finished and features all the comforts and amenities expected in a boat capable of cruising and fishing. The Salthouse Sovereign 63 is spacious and air-conditioned, and the enclosed bridge allows comfortable operation in all weather conditions. This is an opportunity for someone looking for a comfortable, efficient, and economical boat to fish in the waters. Salthouse Sovereign 63, competent Sport fisher/Cruiser with renowned seakeeping abilities. Spacious throughout with full-size appliances and multiple social spaces. The cockpit leads to the Alfresco area. Ahead of this is the large U-shaped galley, which adjoins the main saloon. Separating the cockpit/Alfresco and galley are two electric drop-down windows, which create fantastic flow and connectivity among guests. Forward of the main saloon and down the companionway is the accommodation, consisting of a Port side guest stateroom with 2 x side-by-side beds. To starboard is 2nd guest stateroom with full-size under/over bunks. The Master cabin, with a queen-sized walk-around Island bed and ensuite, is in the bow. The enclosed Flybridge allows comfortable operation in all weather conditions. The game is rigged, and there are lots of extras. Priced to sell and representing real value for the money, this large-volume NZ Icon is ready for the next adventure.
